

THE COUNTER TOP

A VISION FROM OLD TO NEW

Lately I have been wanting to remodel my house but I know that I will have to start little by little to do this. My first thought into what I should remodel is the bathroom counter top and sink. That is where my inspiration has come from with the project at hand. Right now I have just an ordinary particle board counter top but I want to see or imagine what it would look like using Rhino. In this it will just be the counter top along with drawers and doors for storage. A hole at the top is placed to mimic where the sink will go. It is awesome to think that we do not only have drawing to make up what we want things to look like but we also have 3-D rendering to help get a bigger picture of what we want. The model I created helps with the idea of remodeling because it allows me to see different materials I can use, different angles, and shapes for the certain design. So with this I hope you enjoy my ideas of a style of counter top.
